THREE BELIEVED FATALLY HURT NEAR BEN HILL

Crew of A. B. and C. Freight Train May Be Fatally Hurt as Result of Accident.

SHEET OF FLAMES ENVELOPS TRAIN

Injured Men Rushed to Atlanta Hospitals—Doctors Say Men "Frightfully" Burned.

Six men were possibly fatally burned when an A. B. and C. freight train derailed near Ben Hill early this morning and a tank car of gasoline became ignited enveloping the entire train crew in flames.

The injured men were rushed to Atlanta hospitals in private automobiles. The fireman, Scott White, was taken to Davis-Fischer hospital, where it was not known early this morning whether he would survive. The other four men were taken to Grady in serious condition.

The men were taken to Grady where physicians said that T. Byers, engineer, is almost certain to die. R. L. Woodham, of Fitzgerald, and R. L. Jones, of Manchester, both brakemen, were also said to be in a serious condition. R. T. Scott was the fourth injured man.

A negro fireman whose name was not learned was taken to Spelman University hospital, badly burned.

According to meager details available shortly after the accident, the engine of freight train No. 94 jumped the track, dragging several cars with it. The gasoline in one of the cars came ignited and enveloped the entire train in a sheet of flame that was visible for miles.

The gasoline flared so suddenly that the men were unable to jump to safety and were trapped at their respective posts. Physicians attending the men described them as "frightfully burned," and expressed doubt that they could survive.

GERMANY LOOKS TO LABOR CHIEF IN STEEL CONFLICT

Berlin, December 5.—(AP)—The parties to the conflict which has developed in the iron and steel industry over increased wages today looked to the minister of labor for the solution of their difficulties.

The German federation of iron and steel industrialists served notice that they would close down all plants on January first. This was regarded as a move to scare workers into withdrawing their demands for wage increases and as paying the way to closing down unprofitable undertakings.

Both sides apparently realize that they have overdone the mark and hope that the mediation machinery provided by the law will evolve an acceptable compromise.

The ministry of labor has the greatest interest in preventing a shutdown as it would burden the federal budget with unemployment doles for upward of 250,000 workers.

Kansas City Choice Causes G. O. P. Fight

Move To Draft Coolidge Is Seen in Plans of Butler.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Washington, December 5.—Great excitement prevails tonight among the republican national committee assembled in Washington to choose the city in which the national convention will be held next June.

William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee, has thrown his influence in favor of holding the convention in Kansas City and the impression has been created that he has done so with a view to drafting President Coolidge for renomination.

This development has increased the tension of the situation created by the failure of the president up to date to make it clear beyond a reasonable doubt whether he would accept renomination if drafted.

Coolidge receives Committee. Coolidge is to receive the national committee at the white house tomorrow afternoon and to make some remarks to the party body. The prevailing notion among the republican leaders is that if the president is determined not to accept renomination he will avail himself of this opportunity to set all doubts at rest.

If he should remain silent there will be a widespread tendency to infer that he is receptive to conscription. Many republican leaders who hitherto have interpreted his "I do not choose to run" statement of August 2 as an unqualified renunciation, confess that their faith will be shaken if the president remains silent on the matter in his address tomorrow.

Chairman Butler never has imputed finality to the Coolidge renunciation of August 2 and was the first to predict that the president would be drafted. Nor does Chairman Butler look for any statement from the president definitely closing the door to his renomination. No sooner had the president made it known last Tuesday that he would address the national committee tomorrow than Chairman Butler expressed the opinion that Coolidge would not in those remarks take occasion to construe the word "choose."

Favor Kansas City. It has been known all along that leaders in the "draft Coolidge" movement have favored Kansas City above all others. Kansas City is in the heart of the iron belt and the Coolidgeites calculate that the drafting of the president in that region would remove from him the curse of his unpopularity in the coal belt for his veto of the McNary-Haugen bill. ## 2,000 ENTRAINING TODAY TO UNVEIL STEPHENS STATUE

Prominent Georgians in Party Which Will Pay Homage to Illustrious Son of Dixie.

More than 2,000 Georgians today will entrain on one of the largest pilgrimages ever begun from the south to Washington, D. C.

The journey is a mission of homage to one of the nation's most illustrious sons, the only vice president of the Confederacy ever had, a senator from Georgia, a congressman, a governor, an author and a silver-tongued orator, Alexander H. Stephens.

Headed by Henderson Hallman, grand marshal of Georgians; Governor L. G. Hardman, Senators William J. Harris and Walter F. George, congressmen, outstanding Georgians and southerners, the party will unveil the statue of Stephens at 3 o'clock Thursday in Statuary Hall, America's Hall of Fame.

With the unveiling of that statue the Empire State's quota will have been filled, and two college roommates, Dr. Crawford Long, discoverer of anesthesia, and Stephens, the immortal southerner, will have received the highest honor ever accorded any Georgian.

When the draperies fall from the life-like figure, which has been carved by Gutson Borglum, internationally famous sculptor, and which is the gift to the state of Mrs. J. M. High, hundreds of the state's most prominent citizens will be present by lay tributes of words and wreaths of honor at the feet of the man who carved his name in large letters into the political, civic and turbulent civil war records of the United States.

No national was the career of Stephens that not only Atlanta, Georgia and the south will be represented at the unveiling ceremony, but Vice President Charles Duane will have an important part on the program, representing the federal government. This is the first time that the career of Stephens, President Coolidge will receive the Georgia and the south will be represented at the unveiling ceremony, but Vice President Charles Duane will have an important part on the program, representing the federal government.

It has been known all along that leaders in the "draft Coolidge" movement have favored Kansas City above all others. ## Unexpurgated Report of League Vice Commission Shows Alarming Growth of Traffic in Women.

YOUTH OF VICTIMS
AROUSES PROBERS

League of Nations Makes Public Expurgated Report of Vice Commission Findings.

This is the second article in a series revealing for the first time the findings of a commission delegated by the League of Nations to investigate the international white slave traffic. They are a massive indictment of contemporary civilization.

Although France, the section of the report this series will disclose in detail has been suppressed through pressure brought by certain nations. The report the league is now making public is the expurgated version.

BY JOHN L. BALDWIN.
(Special Dispatch to The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance, Copyright, 1927, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Geneva, December 5.—France is inferentially branded as the fountainhead of the world white slave traffic in the original and expurgated report of the League of Nations commission on traffic in women and children.

It was principally through the opposition of the French representatives on the league council that part two of the report, in which the vice traffic inquiry of 28 nations was detailed, was suppressed last March.

Although Premier Briand, in a sharp note issued yesterday on behalf of the French government, attacked the conclusions of the committee of experts, the fact did not appear that the most appalling conclusions had been suppressed in the revised report. This had been done because France, as a great power, and with a seat on the league council, had opposed the issuance of the report at all in its original form.

Premier Briand sought to force the exclusion of some of the general statements of the investigators, and in this course France was joined by other governments. However, this article will print those portions of the report on France which had been removed in the expurgated version.

Trafficking in Women. The committee's original report on France is divided, as in the case also of the other countries, into an examination of vice conditions in the interior and into export trafficking in women and children.

The committee made "particularly prolonged and detailed investigations" in France because their inquiries in other countries showed an enormous proportion of foreign women imported were French, and because the statistics of many countries showed that

OATH IS BARRED VARE AND SMITH AS SENATE OPENS

Both Men Are Forced To Stand Aside While Thirty Other Senators Are Sworn Into Office.

SENATOR NORRIS LEADS IN FIGHT

Senate Agrees To Defer Consideration of His Resolution Until Coolidge Message Is Read.

Washington, December 5.—(AP)—Stopped by a double-barreled resolution which carried an element of surprise, Frank L. Smith, of Illinois, and William S. Vare, of Pennsylvania, republicans, stood aside today in the senate while 30 other senators-elect took the oath of office.

When their names were called along with the others, Senator Norris, of Nebraska, a republican independent leader, offered resolutions which would have the senate decide that they were entitled neither to the oath of office nor to membership because of expenditures in their primaries.

Both senators-elect stood aside without protest and the senate agreed to defer consideration of the resolutions until after the reading tomorrow of the annual message of President Coolidge.

Beck Challenged. While the senate was laying the ground work for a protracted fight over two of its seats, the house had one of its members challenged, James M. Beck, republican of Philadelphia, elected to succeed Vare as a member of the house and chief counsel for the Pennsylvania senator-elect.

Representative Garrett, democratic leader, challenged Beck on the ground that he is not a legal resident of Pennsylvania, but after a brief running fire the house voted 243 to 157 to permit him to take the oath of office. Later it adopted a motion by Garrett for an investigation of Beck's case by an elections committee.

The challenge directed against Beck was almost as much of a surprise as the one against Vare.

REPORT ABSOLVES OIL COMPANIES

Have Not Violated Anti-Trust Laws, Declares Special Master in Chancery.

Chicago, December 5.—(AP)—The Standard Oil company and 50 other oil companies have not violated the Sherman anti-trust law as charged in a suit instituted by the government three years ago, Charles Martindale, of Indianapolis, special master in chancery, reported today.

There not only is no evidence of a conspiracy in restraint of trade, Martindale reported, but it is patent that competition is actual and genuine, and the marketing rivalry keen.

The master could find no reason for believing that the defending companies procured patents, as contended by the government, to further a conspiracy and to "freeze out" rival companies.

Specifically referring to the Burton "cracking" process, owned by the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, he said, if this idea had not been developed, the supply of gasoline would have been reduced and the price would have been higher.

Martindale, according to his report, found that the adjustment made by the Standard of Indiana and the Texas company over conflicting patents, is beneficial to the public. Had the two corporations left the settlement of that controversy to litigation, the master said, there probably would have been a shortage of gasoline, and the public would have paid double what it did for the commodity.

The master held that the patents covered substantial, valuable and highly useful improvements and made possible the manufacture of cracked gasoline in commercial quantities. They, he continued, increased the yield of gasoline per barrel of crude oil many times, and have enabled the supply of gasoline to meet ever increasing demand.

Jealousy of Husband Described by Widow

MRS. LILLIENDAHL DENIES ALL CHARGES

Mays Landing, N. J., December 5.—(AP)—Garbed in her widow's weeds, Mrs. Margaret Lilliendaahl told between sobs on the witness stand today her story of the manner in which two negroes killed the aged husband with whose murder she is charged.

Willis Beach, the elderly chaffin farmer who is jointly charged with the widow and whose infatuation for her is put forward by the state as the motive for the crime, listened to the testimony which characterized him as innocent with a twisted smile on his pallid lips.

From almost the beginning of today's session Mrs. Lilliendaahl occupied the stand in her own defense and when court adjourned for the day she had not yet completed her ordeal.

The cross-examination of Mrs. Lilliendaahl was more dramatic than the direct. Once she tied a handkerchief about her face like a robber's mask to show how the negroes had looked when they first "boarded" the Lilliendaahl automobile, like marauding pirates. Again she held up the blue print dress she had worn on the day of the killing and demonstrated how one of the negroes, she said, grabbed the garment at her neck and pulled it almost from her body.

"We were driving along the Atlantic road very slowly," she said in a choking voice, "when suddenly two masked negroes boarded the car, one jumping to each running board. 'Drive in that lane,' the one on my side said, 'and don't yell.' I don't know whether I steered the car up that lane or whether it was guided for me.

"But I remember stopping in the lane. The door on my side was opened

COUNCIL APPROVES STUDENTS GIVE FOLEY WIRING BID TO OGLETHORPE

Central Ave. Purchase $20,000 Contribution of Undergraduates and $2,500 Heinz Gift Leaves Quota $70,000 Short.

Approval of the bid of the Howard P. Foley company for electrical work on the first five school projects to be constructed from bond funds, authorization of purchase of the property of the Central Avenue Methodist church property for viaduct erection, purchase of an eleven-acre tract of land in the third ward for park purposes and reference to the finance committee of a paper designed to secure fire protection for the citizens owning property outside the city featured the semi-monthly meeting of city council Monday afternoon.

The aldermanic board will not meet until next Monday afternoon to pass upon papers which were sent to it for separate action, due to failure of the mayor to call a special session Monday afternoon and the fact that many members of the board are planning a week's hunt at Colonel's island, it was announced.

Only one vote was cast against the Foley paper when it was offered to council. That was from Councilman A. J. Orme. No fight was launched against its acceptance, and since it has been the storm center of several councilmanic, school board and bond commission battles during the past few weeks, predictions were that actual work on the schools will be begun this week. It is expected to pass the aldermanic board at next Monday's session without opposition.

Mayor Gratified. Mayor I. N. Ragsdale expressed gratification at the amicable settlement of differences and predicted that actual work on the new projects can be begun within a few days.

Alderman Claude Ashley, of the fourth ward, and a member of the conference committee from council selected to adjust differences regarding award of the electrical work, made the following statement to city council relative to the contract: "There has been a great deal of mis-

Three Men Will Fill Job Left By Wheeler

PEACE COMES TO ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

BY ALFRED P. RECK.
Washington, December 5.—(United News).—Three men will be required to fill the shoes of the late Wayne B. Wheeler, in the opinion of the Anti-Saloon league leaders gathered here for their biennial convention, which opened tonight.

When Wheeler died a short time ago the offices of legislative superintendent and general counsel became vacant.

Three men are slated to carry on the work of the great dry organizer. They are: Francis Scott McBride, who will continue as general superintendent of the league.

Dr. Ernest H. Cherrington, of Westerville, Ohio, secretary of the league's executive committee and scheduled to be named to the newly created post of director of education and publicity.

E. B. Dunford, of Richmond, Va., who is scheduled to be named general counsel.

To Share Work. The three men will share the work formerly done by Wheeler. To Dr. Cherrington, it is said, will fall the major part of the mantle worn by the legislative superintendent, it was said.

CONGRESS TO GET ANNUAL MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT

After Coolidge Document Has Been Read Today Both Houses Will Plunge Into Legislative Work.

LONGWORTH MADE HOUSE SPEAKER

Organization of Senate Is Delayed—Success of G. O. P. Slate Depends Upon Insurgents.

Washington, December 5.—(AP)—The seventeenth congress began work on capitol hill today with a political tumult in the senate that promises to echo throughout the session and far into next summer's presidential campaign.

Hardly had the bang of the gavel called both houses to order before the long impending Smith-Vare election battle broke in the senate, and shored into the background the consideration of a host of legislative tasks that the new congress will be called upon to tackle.

Even the house, where stricter rules call for more regular procedure, came an indication of discord and political confusion ahead. After some debate a resolution was adopted to investigate the eligibility of one of its new members, James M. Beck, of Pennsylvania, a republican, elected to fill William S. Vare's seat and chief counsel for Vare in his senate contest.

Avails Message. Despite these first-minute eligibility disputes, congress got its machinery into shape to receive President Coolidge's annual message at noon tomorrow. After that has been read by the clerks of the two houses, the house will make a start at its huge legislative work. The senate will plunge into the Smith-Vare fight, which may occupy its attention for days and perhaps weeks.

After establishing that 417 of its 435 members were present, the house reelected Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio, as speaker; William Tyler Page as its clerk, and all of the other officers nominated by the republican majority, thus reaffirming that party's control in that body.

Reorganization of the senate was deferred until later in the week by an agreement between the republican and democratic leaders but a chaplain elected, the Rev. Z. B. Phillips, rector of Epiphany Episcopal church here, being selected to succeed the late Rev. J. J. Muir.

Crowds in Galleries. Crowds which jammed the senate galleries and corridors, the expectation of witnessing the beginning of a spectacular struggle over the seating of Smith and Vare met with disappointment.

It isn't everybody who can afford to buy lavishly and blindly. In fact, the average person needs to expend real care in making his or her purchases. Out of that fact arises the problem of being "happy though poor."

Al Smith's Nomination Is Predicted by Miller

Democrats will probably nominate Al Smith, and republicans are likely to choose a "dark horse," though the prohibition law will be enforced just as well as it is now, no matter who goes into the white house, James Martin Miller, Washington author and newspaper man, who is spending several days in Atlanta on a tour of the south, asserted Monday.

Mr. Miller was United States consul general to New Zealand, to France and to Germany before the world war, and is well known as a writer on political subjects. "I have always been 'solid' on Atlanta," Mr. Miller declared. "The late Colonel Regan and others often entertained me on visits to this city in the past. I have not been to Atlanta in the past two years, and I am wondering if they will ever get through making this city, as I see improvements at every hand. I never become tired of stopping over in Atlanta on my visits to the south."

There is nothing that red-blooded Americans admire more than an and out declaration in politics as in everything else, Mr. Miller pointed out. "There is nothing that appeals to them as does the candidate or the party willing to accept responsibility."

We must have party responsibility some day whether we have it at the forthcoming convention of the two great parties or not. "Issues are not made by party declarations, but are in the minds of the people," he said. "For instance, Michigan, Iowa and other states make it a misdemeanor to play baseball, open theaters or do business of any kind on Sunday. The cabmen and transportation companies which carry persons to any amusement on Sunday are guilty of a misdemeanor in Michigan."

"After James Cousins was elected to the United States senate, I said, Senator, when you were mayor of Detroit, you were guilty of malfeasance in office. The city owned street railways in Detroit, the mayor is in control of them. On Sundays your street railway lines have transported as many as 30,000 people to the league ball games. The governor could have asked for your resignation immediately and under the state law you could have been prosecuted for not enforcing the law in transporting people to the games. Of course, the sentiment of the people was not back of the law. The sentiment of the people is the case, the unwritten law prevails over the written law."

"We should have in the United States two equally divided parties for the good of the nation. We are affected with political agnosticism."

TERMS OF 4 TO 10 YEARS METED OUT IN ROBBERY CASE

Robert Grady was found guilty Monday by a jury in Judge G. H. Howard's division of Fulton superior court on a charge of robbery and was sentenced to serve from four to ten years on the chain-gang.

Grady was jointly indicted with Andrew Goodman and John Johnson, the true bill alleging that on November 13 they took from the person of Brice Byers, of Carl, Ga., without his consent, $10 in cash, a watch, knife and chain, all of the value of $20.

The other defendants have not been tried but their cases will probably be disposed of during the ensuing week.

SIXTY UNDEFENDED DIVORCES GRANTED

Disposition of more than 60 undefended divorce suits featured the session Monday of Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy's division of Fulton superior court in which the largest number of undefended divorce suits in the history of Fulton superior court are on the calendar.

The calendar contains a total of 250 cases, the majority of the petition being women. Drunkenness and cruel treatment are the most prevalent grounds on which the decrees are sought. The entire docket is expected to be cleared up before the end of the week.

GRAND JURY DELAYS HAYES DEATH CASES

Blakely, Ga., December 5.—(Special.)—The early county grand jury convened here today, but failed to enter into the cases against Mr. and Mrs. Harris Hayes, 60-year-old couple accused of the deaths of their two sons, James and Amos, and Amos' wife. The jury was in session until late tonight.

It is expected that indictments will be returned tomorrow, and that the trial will begin Wednesday or Thursday. A special session of the early county court is also in session.

The elderly couple are charged with administering poison to their sons, and their daughter-in-law for the purpose of collecting insurance. The bodies of the two sons have been exhumed, and it was reported that a sufficient quantity of poisoning was found in the viscera to kill.

SUMTER FARMER QUICKLY CLEARED AT MURDER TRIAL

Americus, Ga., December 5.—(Special.)—Cliff B. Morgan, prominent Sumter county planter, was acquitted by a jury in Sumter superior court here today on a charge of murder.

Morgan was indicted by the present grand jury for having killed Willie Carter, a negro laborer on his farm near Americus, on September 6, 1922. The killing, it developed at the hearing today, was done in self-defense, as the negro was advancing upon Morgan with a long, keen-bladed knife when Morgan fired.

Hilliard Williams and Hollis Fort represented Morgan at the trial, and the prosecution was conducted by Judge Felton. Judge Z. A. Littlejohn presided and the case was with the jury, of which R. H. Horton was foreman, only about fifteen minutes when a verdict of acquittal was returned, this being reached upon the first ballot.

Famous Author To Attend K.A. Convention Here

Laurence Stallings, former Atlanta newspaper man, whose high place in the literary world was achieved with the sensational war drama, "What Price Glory?" will be a visitor in Atlanta for the general convention of the Kappa Alpha fraternity December 6.

Stallings will be one of the principal guests of the convention, which will be held at the Biltmore hotel. Among those who will be present are many of the country's leading authors, statesmen, and men prominent in civic affairs.

Atlanta is delighted to be the host for the convention this year," declared Henry Heinz, president of the Atlanta alumni association of Kappa Alpha. "The entertainment committee of the association has worked out elaborate plans for the reception of the visiting brothers. We hope that all alumni in Georgia and over the south will exert every effort to lay aside business and be with us during these days when fraternal ties will be renewed."

Stallings will be one of the principal guests of the convention, which will be held at the Biltmore hotel. Among those who will be present are many of the country's leading authors, statesmen, and men prominent in civic affairs.

HEALTH AUTHORITY TO ADDRESS LIONS' LUNCHEON TODAY

Dr. W. H. Phipps, of Kansas, Mo., well-known health authority, for many years with the federal government and former health officer of Kansas, will be the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Atlanta Lions club at 12:30 o'clock today in the Win-Coff hotel. It was announced Monday by Joseph B. Wolfe, president. Dr. Phipps is on a lecture tour of the country. His subject will be "Milk for Health."

In addition to the regular program, members of the Lions club will formulate plans for their Christmas tree to be given to the blind people of Atlanta.

WINSLOW RUSSELL TO ADDRESS MEET OF LOCAL BANKERS

Winslow Russell, vice president of the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance company, will address a special meeting of officers and directors of Atlanta banks and members of the Atlanta Association of Life Insurers at the Henry Grady hotel tonight. The meeting will be presided over by C. M. Boyer, president of the association.

Realizing the tremendous wastage when proceeds of life insurance policies are paid to beneficiaries in lump sums, trust companies and trust departments of banks and life insurance companies are cooperating in the movement fostering payment of the proceeds of life insurance policies to beneficiaries as income instead of being paid in lump sums. Mr. Russell's talk will be illustrated by moving pictures.

TO REPLANT TREES ON MEMORIAL ROAD

He plans to stay in the city several days, visiting the various points of interest, including the Carnegie library and the state capitol. His Atlanta visit may also include several of the leading industrial plants as well as the Confederate memorial being carved on the side of Stone mountain, he stated.

Mr. Skoglund had with him a number of letters from officials of all leading cities in the states visited. He started on his hike over the country from Beverly, Mass., on June 15, 1922, and hopes to complete his journey through the remaining eight states within the next few weeks. His route from Atlanta will be through the mountains of north Georgia and into Tennessee.

Strikingly New!

If you have not seen the new Pierce-Arrow, you should, at once. It is the youngest, smartest, thoroughbred among today's fine cars. And moderately priced.

Economy in the Exquisite and Extravagance in the Ordinary

Fineness and permanence are twin qualities—and exist without regard for price. Yet there is economy in the exquisite—and extravagance in the ordinary.

A beautiful fur garment, for example, is never bought for a single season. Jewels and paintings and rugs are lifetime purchases—if they are fine. The commonplace is the frequently replaced.

It might be possible for Pierce-Arrow to build a car at half today's cost. It might be a good car, too. But it could never be a Pierce-Arrow.

MRS. EVERETT BETTER AFTER AUTO MISHAP

New Data on Civil War Days

Atlanta's New Work on Lincoln To Be Released in Spring

Contained in Battey's Book

A southern man has fathomed the strangely mystifying concatenation of circumstances leading to the assassination of Abraham Lincoln and has collected many hitherto unpublished facts of civil war days, and in the spring this southerner, George M. Battey, Jr., will release a Lincoln book, the title of which is "Knights of the Sock and Bunkin."

Mr. Battey is a native Atlantan and for some time was connected with the staff of The Constitution. He has a legion of friends in this city who have learned with interest the success he has made in the literary world with two of his other works, "70,000 Miles on a Submarine Destroyer" and "A History of Rome."

His latest book will be off the press in the early part of the spring and has already received the praise of numerous critics of the New England states. Mr. Battey is now residing in New York city.

Several important questions are propounded and answered in this book, among them being: Was John Wilkes Booth the master mind in the conspiracy to assassinate Abraham Lincoln, and if not, who was? Was Booth engaged to marry the daughter of a senator from a New England state? Was Mr. Lincoln a mystic, and was he influenced by seances in the white house? Were Stanton, Grant and Johnson also marked for assassination or was Johnson in the plot?

The book throws new light (through the discovery of unpublished material) on certain activities which were obscured by the din of battle and portrays the character and personality of the enigmatic martyr who gave his life to establish the strong confederation of today and the stronger union of American republics of tomorrow.

Details of the tragedy are pictured by eye-witnesses whose statements have never been published, among them being Captain Theodore McGowan, of Pennsylvania. Facts going to show the identity of the man slain at Garrett's and statements from members of the military commission and other department heads are also contained in the volume.

George O. Moody is also a candidate for reelection to council. The registration lists a total of 481 qualified to vote.

GEORGE EXPLAINS BONUS FACILITIES

With only a few weeks remaining in which veterans of the world war can avail themselves of their claim to the federal adjusted compensation bonus, Senator Walter F. George, Monday, issued a statement calling attention to the facilities arranged to aid veterans filing the necessary applications.

An excerpt from Senator George's statement follows:

"It is important that all veterans who have not done so file applications for adjusted service certificates by January 1, 1928. Dependents of deceased veterans who have not received the certificate should also make application before January 1. Under terms of the act, it is necessary for veterans to apply for their certificates by the date named. My office or your congressman will be glad to serve you. Your local postmaster and veteran organization will also be glad to assist."

According to recent announcement, an information center in Atlanta has been opened at the United States army recruiting office, 805 Throver building, to aid veterans in filing applications.

JUDGE ADAMSON PLANS TO RETIRE

Carrollton, Ga., December 5.—(Special.)—Judge W. C. Adamson, of the board of the United States general appraisers court, will retire to private life about January 18, he announced.

JUDGE W. C. ADAMSON.

here today. Following his retirement, Judge and Mrs. Adamson will tour Europe, the Mediterranean and Palestine, and will make their home in the old family home in Carrollton afterwards.

Judge Adamson is seventy-three years of age, having been born on August 13, 1854. He was eligible for retirement on full pay upon attaining the age of seventy, but has preferred to remain in active work for the past three years.

Judge Adamson served in congress for more than 20 years, being elected from the fourth Georgia district in 1897 and reelected steadily thereafter until 1919. Shortly after his last election in 1917, however, he resigned from the sixty-fifth congress in December of that year, upon his appointment as a member of the board of the United States appraisers customs court, with headquarters in New York city.

This was a life appointment with the privilege of retirement at full pay at the age of seventy.

Judge Adamson, one of the most distinguished living Georgians, goes back to his old home at Carrollton at the conclusion of the planned European tour, to the home county he served as solicitor general and later as judge, and the district from which he was elected to congress.

WAYCROSS-BRUNSWICK ROAD TO BE GRAVELED

Waycross, December 5.—(Special.)—The state highway board has announced that it will let a contract December 21 for placing a gravel surface on the highway from Waycross to Brunswick.

The three counties involved are Ware, Glynn and Brantley. The commissioners of these counties are in thorough accord with the state highway board and the construction work once begun will be pushed rapidly to completion.

The purpose of this contract is to make the road fit for travel 365 days in the year and to get every mile of it ready for an asphalt top surface.

It is realized that with a gravel surface the farmers in Brantley county can get to Waycross or to Brunswick at any time and during this time the hills will be settling and the new grading will be getting compact. Then the contract for the asphalt will be let.

It is anticipated here that the asphalt contract can be let before June, 1928.

Mrs. Ansley founded the cottage in February, 1925, and since that time she has materially relieved conditions in families where children do not come under the scope of the orphan's homes.

TROLLINGER TRIAL TO START MONDAY

Thomas Trollinger, Simpson road "death farm" tenant, will go on trial Monday, December 12, on a charge of murdering Millard T. Allen, of a Simpson road address, whom he is alleged to have shot to death at the farm on Sunday afternoon, October 23.

The case will be heard before Judge G. H. Howard, in Fulton superior court, to whom Len B. Guillebeau, attorney for Trollinger, Monday appeared for bail for the defendant.

The application for bail set out that the defendant is being held in Fulton tower on a bench warrant on an indictment charging him with the murder of Allen. Trollinger has been incarcerated in the county jail since November 5, it was stated.

The petition avers that the defendant is not guilty of the charge and stands ready for trial at any time. A warrant charging Trollinger with Allen's murder was sworn out in municipal court several weeks ago and following a preliminary hearing the defendant was exonerated and the warrant dismissed by Judge J. R. Howard. The shooting occurred on the "death farm," two miles from the heart of Atlanta. Trollinger is said to have stepped between Allen and Miss Nina Swift, of a Simpson road address, during a quarrel, in which Allen is said to have been attempting to beat Miss Swift.

Judge Ridley ruled that there was no probable cause to suspect the petitioner's guilt on the testimony which was introduced by the state and therefore dismissed the warrant.

Judge Howard, when presented the application for bail, originally set the date for hearing as December 14, and after the solicitor announced that the trial had been set for December 12, vacated the order setting the hearing.

Trollinger was tried and acquitted last week before Judge Howard on a charge of murdering Owen Caruthers, negro, whose body was found buried in a corn field on the Simpson road farm. Attorney Guillebeau will be assisted by F. Joe Turner, Atlanta attorney, in defending Trollinger.

5 MONEY ORDERS FORGED, PASSED

A trail of forged postoffice money orders originating in Indiana, has reached as far south as Atlanta, according to a warning issued Monday by Joe P. Johnston, postoffice inspector in charge of this division.

Five of the forged money orders were passed in Atlanta on December 1, it was revealed Monday. The forged orders were for amounts varying from $18.50 to $34, and were presented in payment for purchases, the alleged forger receiving the difference in cash as change.

Mr. Johnston said that the forged orders were made out under three sets of names, as follows: Mrs. Anna Lynch remitter, Harry Lynch, payee; Mrs. Ray Thompson, remitter, Ray Thompson, payee; Mrs. J. C. Schwen, remitter, Harry Schwen, payee. The orders were stolen from the postoffice at Magley, Ind., on July 25, 1927.

Money order forms 11,801 to 12,000 were stolen at Magley, and a large number of them have been forged and cashed, Mr. Johnston said. A telegram received from the inspector in charge at Cincinnati stated that the forged orders have appeared in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. The alleged forger is described as being 25 years of age, 5 feet 10-12 inches tall, blond, grey eyes, 142 pounds weight, accompanied part of the time by his wife, who is also 25 years of age.

Circulars warning postmasters of the presence of the forger in the division have been mailed out by Mr. Johnston, the postmasters being notified to pass the warning on to business firms.

GANG BULLETS SPREAD DEATH

(Copyright, 1927, for The Constitution.)

Chicago, December 5.—Following a "wild west" stick-up of the crowded Parody Cafe early this morning, one man is dead, two women are dying, and six others are badly wounded. The 200 terrorized men and women, who escaped slugs from sawed-off shotguns and magazine pistols, are still in a hysterical stage. When the roar and smoke of the swift battle had cleared away, a scene resembled a battlefield.

Harry ("Peanuts") Smith, a waiter, lay dead, the top of his head blown off by a shotgun charge as he tried to race past one of the robber "look-outs." Two women, one a guest and the other an entertainer, were badly hurt. Five of the bandits were stretched out on the floor, badly wounded and the eighth victim, a policeman, was prostrate on the sidewalk in front of the cafe, his hip smashed by slugs.

Tables and chairs were smashed and overturned, clothing torn and dishes and glasses shattered as the frantic men and screaming women, dived for cover under tables or fought for escape by the nearest exits. Two of the bandits, one of them wounded, escaped in the general confusion. The seriously wounded are:

Miss June Griffith, 25, singer, shot in left side and arm shattered; Miss Fanny Hillman, shot in right arm and trampled; William Malone, shot in left side; believed member of robber gang; Able Schaffer, shot in left lung, will probably die; Charles Cohan, policeman, shot in left hip; Benny Sullivan, shot in left side and back; may die; also held as one of the gangsters; Edward Cummings, shot four times in body, may die; held as leader of the gang; Rocco Toroni, alias "Rocky Joyce," picked up at his home with bullet wound in body and held as one of gangsters.

Meyer Goland, the only suspected member of the gang who was not wounded, runs a beer flat. A year ago he shot and killed a taxi cab driver in a quarrel over the bill, but political influence saved him. Arrested with him were Bee Hoag and Dorothy Noy, who claims she is from Washington, D. C., and visiting Miss Hoag.

Officers Balk Stick-up.
The attempted stick-up failed because Policemen Charles Cohan and John Fried were among the guests. When the bandits burst in with a demand for all to put up their hands, the two policemen dropped behind tables and opened fire. Officer Cohan shot down the first bandit and his next bullet brought down Cummings, the leader of the gang. Instantly a dozen shotguns and pistols were spitting death. Just outside were Policemen Leslie Larson and James J. Sweeney, off duty, but armed. They rushed into the cafe, brandishing their revolvers and potted the bandits as they ran out.

PLANS FOR PAYING GREEK DEBT MADE

Washington, December 5.—(AP)—A refunding of the Greek war debt and a further advance to that country, the whole to be repaid over a period of 62 years have been agreed upon by the state and treasury departments and the minister from Greece.

The debt now totals $19,650,836, representing the principal and interest since 1918 on money loaned to assist Greece in the war. Under the agreement, the United States would lend Greece an additional $12,107,000 in cash payable in 20 years at an interest rate of 4 per cent and accept on January 1 Greek securities for the larger sum, bearing interest at 3 per cent, and maturing over the 62-year period.

Petite Leading Woman of 'Broadway' Is Established Footlight Star at 17

Miss Constance Brown, shown in the above somewhat unconventional pose, is the leading woman of "Broadway," now in its second week at the Erlanger.

BY PAUL STEVENSON.
Well now, how'd you like to bump along with something like this on your bumpers?

You're dead right, we would too. This charming personality perched on the front bumpers is dainty and petite little Constance Brown, leading woman in "Broadway," the best play seen in Atlanta in years, which swings into its second week's engagement Monday at the Erlanger theater.

Although she's a leading woman she's nothing but a girl yet because the charming little creature who plays "Billie Moore" in the big show is just 17 years old.

Just seventeen, yet she plays the difficult part of "Billie," a cabaret dancer with all the art and skill of a veteran. Every person in the theater falls in love with this little "Billie" before she's been on the stage more than five minutes and they remain comfortably in love with her the rest of the evening.

Little Miss Brown used to go to a fashionable finishing school at Greenwich, Conn., when her father lost his fortune in Wall street crashes and her school days came to an end.

"I had to go to work somewhere and as I had played in several shows at college I turned my eyes to the stage," Miss Brown said. "My first job was with Charles Dillingham's production 'The City Chaps,' then I was with 'Suzanne' which lasted only a few weeks and then I got my first real good job with 'Queen High' in New York. In 1926 they were forming several companies to play 'Broadway,' and I was selected for the southern company. At first I played the role of 'Anne' and then the role of 'Maudie' and then I played the leading role of 'Billie Moore' in the southern company."

Miss Brown once had an ambition to play light musical comedy roles a la Marilyn Miller but she says she has changed her mind and will stick to the heavier dramatic parts.

Before her father died Miss Brown traveled extensively with her mother and was in Africa when a cable message was received telling of her father's serious illness. She and her mother returned to the United States and after her father's death Miss Brown went to work on the stage.

Many beautiful and charming girls have appeared in shows playing the Erlanger but none of them exceeds this pretty little girl either in beauty or in the ability to act. She makes her part one of immense appeal and it is her work in this part which contributes largely to the enormous success of "Broadway," which has scored an immense hit with Atlanta audiences.

It's well worth a trip to the Erlanger, anyway, just to see and hear Miss Brown as the plaintive "Billie," as will attest the thousands of pleased Atlanta people who have enjoyed the show during its local engagement.

CUT IN EXPENSES SHOWN BY WORK

Washington, December 5.—(AP)—Another record of cutting down expenditures was published today by Secretary Work, who, in his annual report showed that the interior department last year spent $27,709,408 less than during the preceding year.

The record also showed that during the past four years operating costs for the department had been cut by a total of $131,531,871, and that the force of permanent employees had been reduced by 2,722, notwithstanding an increase in the functions delegated to the department.

Along with the accomplished reduction in the expenditures of money Secretary Work urged that similar economy be permitted in the use of natural resources. Calling attention to overproduction of oil and the existing prices, the report emphasized the importance of legislation vesting the secretary with discretion in the matter of leasing and developing the oil resources of the Osage reservation in Oklahoma, a portion of which must be leased annually regardless of market conditions.

The secretary declared that every bureau in the department had shown steady improvement except that of Indian affairs, where the cumulative effect of many years of financial neglect had brought about what he described as "actual poverty."

In discussing the Indian service the secretary renewed his previous recommendations to congress concerning states' responsibility for the education, health, and social welfare of the Indians. "It would be feasible for congress to authorize the secretary to enter into contract with states for the handling of the health and education of the Indians," the report said, with federal expenditures being made through the states under proper safeguards.

The bureau of pensions at the close of the fiscal year showed $89,942 pensioners on the roll as against 501,723 on June 30, 1926, a net loss to the roll of 11,781. During the year 31,501 names were added and 42,282 removed by reason of death, remarriage, and other causes. Pensions paid by the government amounted to $220,152,712 as compared with $207,844,248, the previous year, an increase of $22,308,364.

Envoys of Soviet And Britain Meet But Fail To Agree

BY HENRY WOOD.

Geneva, December 5.—(United News)—Great Britain and Russia exchanged views on their diplomatic relations through their accredited representatives today but found it impossible to reach any basis of agreement.

The conference between the suave Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, and the stocky Man Litvinoff, soviet assistant foreign commissioner who has dominated the Geneva stage for a week, was the grand finale of a score of diplomatic meetings. It completely overshadowed the 48th session of the League of Nations council which opened today.

Remains Day Too Long.
Observers agreed, after the conference, that Litvinoff had remained in Geneva a day too long. He had captured world interest with his capricious disarmament program, his declaration that a bigger war was inevitable and his willingness to sign non-aggression pacts with all nations, but he was defeated at diplomacy by the astute and adroit Chamberlain.

The meeting with Chamberlain was the result of eleven-hour arrangements by two British journalists—George Slocum, of the Laborite London Daily Herald, and Wilson Harris, of the liberal London Daily News—and Mrs. Ivy Litvinoff, the soviet delegate's charming English wife.

The journalists acted as the diplomats' messenger boys throughout the night. Mrs. Litvinoff clinched the conference with a telephone call. Two hours before Litvinoff's train was to leave, the meeting was arranged for 2:30 p. m.

Official Communique.
The official communique of the meeting says:

"M. Litvinoff, having asked Sir Austen Chamberlain for an interview, the meeting took place at the Hotel Beaurivage in the afternoon. The meeting gave occasion for a frank exchange of views regarding the relations of the soviet government and the British government. However, it was not found possible to reach any basis for agreement."

The diplomats were as fidgety as prima donnas. Litvinoff arrived for the conference exactly on the minute. Sir Austen had to leave his lunch to meet him. After the session, Litvinoff ran past 30 anxious journalists, leaving the words "nothing interesting" in his wake.

He will return to the Kremlin before the league council discusses the Polish-Lithuanian situation over Vilna in which Russia has expressed keen interest.

25 MEN REPORTED LOST IN BLIZZARD

Shelby, Mont., December 6.—(AP)—Twenty-five men, members of the Hope engineering crew constructing a pipe line from Great Falls to Shelby, were lost in a blizzard, seven miles from here, late tonight.

Several unsuccessful efforts have been made to rescue the men but none of the rescue parties have been able to more than two miles beyond Shelby.

The snow was falling so fast that it was impossible to see more than a few feet and the thermometer had dropped below zero.

CHEEK NAMED RATE CLERK BY TALMADGE

Announcement of the appointment of B. B. Cheek as rate clerk for the Georgia department of agriculture was made Monday by Eugene Talmadge, commissioner. Mr. Cheek will be connected with the state bureau of markets.

"Mr. Cheek will handle all matters pertaining to freight rates and express charges," said Mr. Talmadge, "and any farmer in the state who has a complaint to make concerning rates charged him, or if he desires information on rates on different products, he is requested to write to the department and desired information will be furnished by Mr. Cheek. Rates on commodities bought by farmers and on products sold by farmers will be furnished upon request. Competitive rates over different lines to same towns and rates on one product as compared with other products will also be furnished."

"The department has employed this rate clerk in order that the farmers of Georgia may have a quick and ready source of information concerning any question of freight charges or rates made in the state, and they are requested to confer with the department at once on any rate question with which they are confronted. Not only will information concerning competitive rates and overcharges be given, but general information on the carrying charges of all farm products will be furnished and claims filed where overcharges are made."

Mr. Cheek, who is a native of Georgia, having been born in Franklin county, has had much experience in rate matters. For five years he was traffic manager for the Gainesville railroad, a Gainesville, Fla., and for the past five years he has handled all matters pertaining to freight and express charges for the Georgia Cotton Growers' Cooperative association.

TO READVERTISE BRIDGE APPROACH NEAR FOLKSTON

Waycross, Ga., December 5.—(Special)—Information has been received here that the contract for building the Florida approaches to the new bridge across the St. Marys river near Folkston must be readvertised. This probably means a delay of three weeks in starting construction. The bridge has been completed and the Georgia approach is ready for traffic. This is the last toll bridge to be eliminated on the Dixie highway.

TO PASS SENTENCE ON DEANS THURSDAY

Decatur, Ga., December 5.—(Special)—A. J. Deans entered a plea of guilty to the charge of robbing the East Atlanta bank last December, when he was sentenced to the penitentiary for the December term here this morning.

Judge John B. Hutcheson, of the Stone Mountain circuit, who is presiding, stated that he would pass sentence on Deans on Thursday. Deans did not name two other men believed to have taken part in the robbery with him.

If you have catarrh you are in danger of losing your hearing. The first symptoms of catarrhal deafness are roaring or buzzing sensations and a stopped-up feeling in the ears. A neglected catarrh, or an uncurbed cold, leads to catarrh, and as everybody knows, catarrh affects the eyes, ears, nose, throat, lungs and frequently undermines the general health.

The secret of the successful medication of this hidden danger to hearing is a certain combination of medicinal herbs (containing no tobacco) in a pipe or cigarette. Dr. Blosser's Remedy produces a dense smoke vapor which is inhaled or forced into the Eustachian tubes leading to the middle ear. It penetrates to parts impossible to reach with balms, salves, sprays, douches, pills, tablets, liquids and so-called "constitutional" treatments.

This Remedy is absolutely harmless. You can get from any drug store a convenient pocket size package of Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes and prove for yourself their pleasant, beneficial effects.—(adv.)

DEFICIENCY BILL AIDS ATLANTA PEN

Washington, December 5.—(AP)—Estimates totaling $194,903,506 were submitted to the house by the budget bureau today for incorporation in the first deficiency bill of the new congress.

The measure, which included many items contained in the supply bill that was caught in the senate filibuster last session, already has been drafted by the house appropriations committee for introduction tomorrow.

The following items for public buildings were requested: Carville, La., marine hospital, $25,000; Athens, Tenn., post office, $25,000; Marianna, Fla., postoffice and courthouse, $35,000; Birmingham, Ala., postoffice and courthouse, $100,000; Memphis, Tenn., postoffice, $75,000.

For the establishment of a power plant and water system at the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., $250,000; for the construction of public works at the marine barracks at Quantico, Va., $1,650,000; for construction of a steel bridge at the marine barracks, 2arris Island, S. C., $30,000; for the building construction and improvements at the Hampton Roads, Va., air station, $640,000.

Among the appropriations for the control of insect pests were $45,000 for expenses in southern field crops investigations and $70,000 to the bureau of agricultural economies for the siberian station on staple cotton; $50,000 for cooperative work of the South Carolina agricultural experiment station with the department of agriculture.

TIMBER BLAZE NEARS EXTINCTION

Los Angeles, December 5.—(AP)—Three hundred men made a final stand tonight near the "rim of the world" highway, far above San Bernardino, against the last blazing front of a series of brush and timber fires in southern California which caused a loss of $1,000,000 in property over the week-end.

Checked on three fronts, the San Bernardino mountain fire still ate its way through fine stands of timber on the crest above Plunge Creek canyon, but was expected to be stamped out finally within a few hours.

Blackened areas many square miles in extent marked the path of five other conflagrations. The most serious of the unseasonable fires—that in the Verdugo Hills between Glendale and Burbank, northwest of Los Angeles—was completely out. A hundred houses were destroyed in Sunset canyon in this area and hundreds of men received minor injuries.

Three men were arrested charged with responsibility for starting a timber fire which consumed some of the finest timber stand in southern California in San Antonio canyon, north of Pomona. This fire was prevented from reaching the important watershed of Lytle Creek canyon by the drafting of hundreds of volunteers. Other fires which raged before high winds through brush at three other widely separated points were finally stamped out.

BOSS BADLY INJURED WHEN HIT BY MOTOR

A C. Boss, 27, of 241 East Hunter street, was taken to Grady hospital early Monday night with a possible fractured skull and other injuries he received when struck down by an automobile said to have been driven by H. F. Thompson, on Crescent avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth street.

Thompson went to police station, where he reported that Boss walked directly into the path of his car, from behind a parked auto. Call Officers C. E. McCray and J. A. Brown investigated. No case was made.

McAndrew Trial May Outlast Term in Office

Chicago, December 5.—(AP)—The trial of William McAndrew, suspended superintendent of schools, may outlive McAndrew's tenure of office.

And that, Walter H. Ragner, former president and one of the few supporters of McAndrew on the board, said is the plan of the majority supporters of Mayor Thompson, who promised during his campaign to remove the superintendent.

The trial will enter upon its fourteenth week December 7, McAndrew's term expires on February 1. The school board usually holds only one hearing a week.

Thompson called McAndrew a "school pigeon of King George" and declared he introduced British propaganda into the schools.

There apparently is an inexhaustible supply of writers and speakers willing to tell of their discoveries of plots to promulgate British ideas and impair the English language and the English language of the English lion and unicorn, Ragner said. So long as they are willing to come here and testify to London propaganda for the prosecution has promised to link directly with McAndrew, the trial need not end, he reasoned.

McAndrew was technically charged by the board with insubordination. Later the allegations were amended to show him guilty of introducing English atmosphere into the Chicago schools through distorted histories.

LAKELAND PLANS GREAT WELCOME FOR HALDEMAN

Lakeland, Fla., December 5.—(AP)—When George Haldean flies back to his home town next Thursday, he will be honored with a homecoming reception that will be equal in enthusiasm, if not in magnitude, to the welcome he received when he recently returned to New York with his copilot, Ruth Elder, from their ill-fated trans Atlantic flight in the monoplane the American Girl.

A committee of 75 prominent Lakeland business men and personal friends of Haldean met late today and concluded final preparations for welcoming the intrepid aviator on his trip home since he and Miss Elder started out to fly from New York to Paris.

Haldean is expected to arrive here in an airplane from New York about 3 o'clock Thursday, and his arrival will mark the formal opening of the dedication of the Haldean-Elder memorial airport, recently named in honor of the two fliers. He will stop at Jacksonville en route from New York, and an effort will be made to have Edward F. Schlee and William S. Brock, New York to Japan fliers, accompany him here for the ceremonies. Brock and Schlee have announced that they will go to Daytona Beach the latter part of this week to attempt to break the world's endurance flight record. They probably would meet Haldean at Jacksonville.

DATE FOR INDIANA GOVERNOR'S TRIAL IS SET BY JUDGE

DRIVING COURTESY—Several minor accidents were reported on the Macon-Atlanta road Sunday evening due to failure to dim lights. Other accidents, largely due to poor road conditions, were reported throughout the day. It is hard to place the blame for the latter but most accidents occurring on paved roads are due to front seat trouble and, unfortunately, it is quite often that the innocent party is the one who suffers.

Dimming, when signaled for, is a common courtesy that one would never fail to observe if he were certain that his identity was known, and failure to dim is inexcusable with modernly-equipped cars. Dimming the Red Wolverine Pathfinders, for instance, is a mere matter of touching a lever on the steering wheel. In the strictest sense it is not dimming, for the angle of the light is changed so that both drivers can see plainly.

Atlanta's Airport

The gala celebration scheduled for the official opening of Candler airport has been postponed until next spring, at which time the New York-Atlanta-Miami air mail route will be placed in operation. W. B. Hartfield, chairman of the municipal airport committee, announced Monday.

The port lights will be turned on for the first time on December 12, as scheduled, but the celebration will take place until spring because of inclement weather conditions which would make hazardous the attendance of the big blimps, dirigibles and other aircraft. It is planned to have here for the celebration, Mr. Hartfield said.

Aside from the inspection of the beacon, the floodlights and the airport boundary lights by officials on December 12, the turning on of the lights for the first time will be merely a casual matter, with the great celebration for the opening of the air mail line, when everything will be thrown into one "stupendous, gigantic" affair.

The field lighting system is practically completed, with the boundary lights already installed, and the great beacon and floodlights all ready for placing. At the airport it was stated Monday that electricity will be put into the hangars today for lighting and power.

THREE LARGE SHIPS BELIEVED MISSING

Elizabeth City, N. C., December 5.—(AP)—Coast guard officials of the seventh district tonight still were endeavoring to clear up doubt that existed today as to whether or not three big ships, or only two, went down in the "graveyard of the Atlantic" off Cape Hatteras during the seventy-mile gale that blew Saturday night.

A message from the Hatteras Inlet coast guard crew sent yesterday by boat to Morehead City and relayed over wires that since have gone down, was garbled in transmission but it indicated to the guardmen at district headquarters here that a big ship previously unreported had gone ashore a mile and a half from Cape Hatteras. Yet there was doubt as to whether or not the message might refer to the Norwegian freighter, Ciba known to have gone ashore and reported pounded to pieces. The message said the crew was going out to the aid of an "unknown steamer."

The storm that whipped the coast Saturday night and Sunday and brought heavy rains and snow to inland points had abated today and the sun was shining. With the coming of better weather it was hoped the crew could be repaired and definite word be obtained soon.

Commander A. O. Littlefield in charge of the seventh district left this morning aboard the coast guard supply boat for Kitty Hawk where the steamer Paraguay was wrecked. He is to inquire into reports regarding the manner in which three of the four men of the Paraguay's crew who were lost, met their death.

The supply boat will continue from Kitty Hawk to Hatteras Inlet with supplies for the crew of the Ciba.

Council Backs T. P. A. Membership Drive for 2,000

City council Monday afternoon passed its stamp of approval of the drive of local post "T" Travelers Protective association, to secure 2,000 members in the next 30 days, when it passed resolutions commending the organization by a unanimous vote.

Aldermen Claude Ashley, of the fourth ward, and William B. Hartfield, of the third, were joint authors of the paper. They lauded the efforts of the association and commended the officers for the "big way in which they are driving for the new members to place Atlanta third in membership in the United States."

Alderman Robert F. Pennington, of the first ward, is president of the post, and he has gathered a group of high-powered salesmen about him in the most pretentious membership campaign ever conducted in Atlanta.

J. C. Harrison is major of the drive, and Jack White, W. G. Dobbs, Oscar Williamson, F. E. Kilber, Harvey Harrison, Carter Harrison, W. W. Moore, B. B. Baber, and more than a score of other outstanding members of the association have been selected as a mopping up squad to see that every member enlists at least one other member during the drive. There are at present 2,000 members of the organization.

SINCLAIR ADMITS ENGAGING SLEUTHS

Washington, December 5.—(AP)—Denial that Harry F. Sinclair, William J. Burns and four associates were guilty of criminal contempt of court in employing Burns detectives to shadow the Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy jury, was made today when they faced Justice Frederick L. Siddons to explain why they should not be punished.

In answers, the six men demanded that the allegations be dismissed because the charges preferred against them by the government did not constitute a crime and because the court lacked jurisdiction in view of the insufficiency of the charges.

When court continued today the basis for argument by counsel for the defense, during which Daniel Thew Wright asked why District Attorney Gordon had not cited for contempt the only two men who are known to have approached a juror.

Wright referred to Don K. King, a newspaper reporter, and J. Ray Akers, a former street car conductor, who filed affidavits alleging that Edward L. Kidwell had talked to them of the case. They said Kidwell had expressed the hope that when the Fall-Sinclair trial was over he would have an "automobile as long as this block."

When the contempt proceedings were inaugurated by the government, the district of Columbia supreme court, asked Gordon to file a petition citing Kidwell for contempt, but this has not been done.

When court continued today the answers of the six men cited for contempt, Sinclair, Burns, Henry Mason Durr, Sheldon Clark, W. Sherman Burns and C. L. Voltsen, were filed. The district attorney found himself swamped and asked for a recess in which to study the answers the law involved. It was granted and when court reconvened several hours later Wright began the arguments for dismissal of the charges.

Sinclair's Admission. Sinclair in his answer said he had instructed Day, vice president of the Sinclair Exploration company, to hire Burns detectives to shadow the jury "solely to keep said jurors under observation for the purpose of ascertaining what persons, if any, came in contact with the said jurors, to the end that he might know if any person who might be desirous of seeing him should endeavor in any way to seek contact with the said jurors."

Sinclair said he believed that he had a right "as a citizen of the United States" to have the trial jury shadowed. The oil man said he believed the government prosecution of him in the oil case was conducted in a "palpable manner in accordance with the usual procedure pertaining to the trial of criminal cases," and asserted he had been made the object of "special prosecution initiated, sponsored and nurtured by the congress of the United States."

Wright, in his argument, maintained that the government had not shown a single instance in which Sinclair could be charged with contempt. Arguments of defense counsel will be continued tomorrow.

Admit Employment. Burns, who established the detective agency, his son, W. Sherman Burns, his present manager, and Veitsch, manager of the agency's Baltimore bureau, all admitted that they were employed by Sinclair through Day to shadow the jury but denied the government charges of improper conduct and intent.

Clark, vice president of the Sinclair Refining company, denied that he had any connection with the hiring of the detectives. He had, he said, only casual information that some operatives were watching the jurors.

Fair and warmer is the weather men for Atlanta and the state at large today, according to C. F. von Herrmann, meteorologist of the government station.

Particular attention is called on the "fair" portion of the prediction, only a few degrees rise in temperature warranting the warmer forecast, the weather man said.

Monday's thermometer fluctuated from 30 to 37 degrees, while today the range is scheduled to be from 30 to 60 degrees. Indications are that fair weather will continue for several days, Mr. von Herrmann stated.

OKLAHOMANS DEFY COURT IN SPECIAL SESSIONS MOVES

Oklahoma City, December 5.—(AP)—Ignoring a ruling of the Oklahoma supreme court that state representatives have no power to arrange a self-convened special session of the state legislature, leaders of the lower group seeking to investigate the administration of Governor Henry S. Johnston today went ahead with organization plans, preparatory to convocation tomorrow.

Representative E. P. Hill, one of the four leaders, announced today that 48 members of the lower house were here.

The supreme court, which ruled that the legislators had no inherent right to call the session without the governor, is included in the state departments which Hill and his colleagues have announced they wish to investigate.

Representative Hill said both parties would be invited to the caucus. He explained that a speaker would be named tonight and that an investigation committee would be appointed later.

PENNSYLVANIA KLAN DENIES MOB VIOLENCE

Pittsburgh, December 5.—(AP)—The Knights of the Ku Klux Klan today filed a general denial in federal court of charges that the organization was responsible for various acts of violence in western Pennsylvania, involving a lynching and a kidnapping.

The charges were included in an action filed against the Klan by the Rev. John F. Strayer and other "honest" members from western Pennsylvania, seeking an injunction to bar the organization from operating in Pennsylvania. The Klan previously had entered suit against the "honest" members seeking to have them enjoined from interfering with the organization. Federal Judge W. H. S. Thompson recently denied various motions in the case and ordered a final hearing held.

The Klan, in its answer, stated the organization teaches respect for the constitution of the United States and national and state laws and that the by-laws of the Klan require that its members be law-abiding citizens.

TAMPA WILL DECIDE CITY MANAGER FORM

Tampa, Fla., December 5.—(AP)—Tampa's electorate will go to the polls tomorrow to decide whether the present city manager form of government will be continued or replaced by a representative body with a mayor and 12 councilmen.

If the voters elect to continue the present commission form, Mayor Commissioner-elect Dr. E. McKay and two other commissioners, recently elected for a term of four years, have announced that they would resign, because they do not favor that form of government. Their resignation would necessitate the calling of a special election for a mayor-commissioner to take their places.

Should the electorate decide to establish a representative form of government, an election would be held the latter part of this month to select a mayor and 12 councilmen.

More about the Space Buyer's 10 DEMANDMENTS

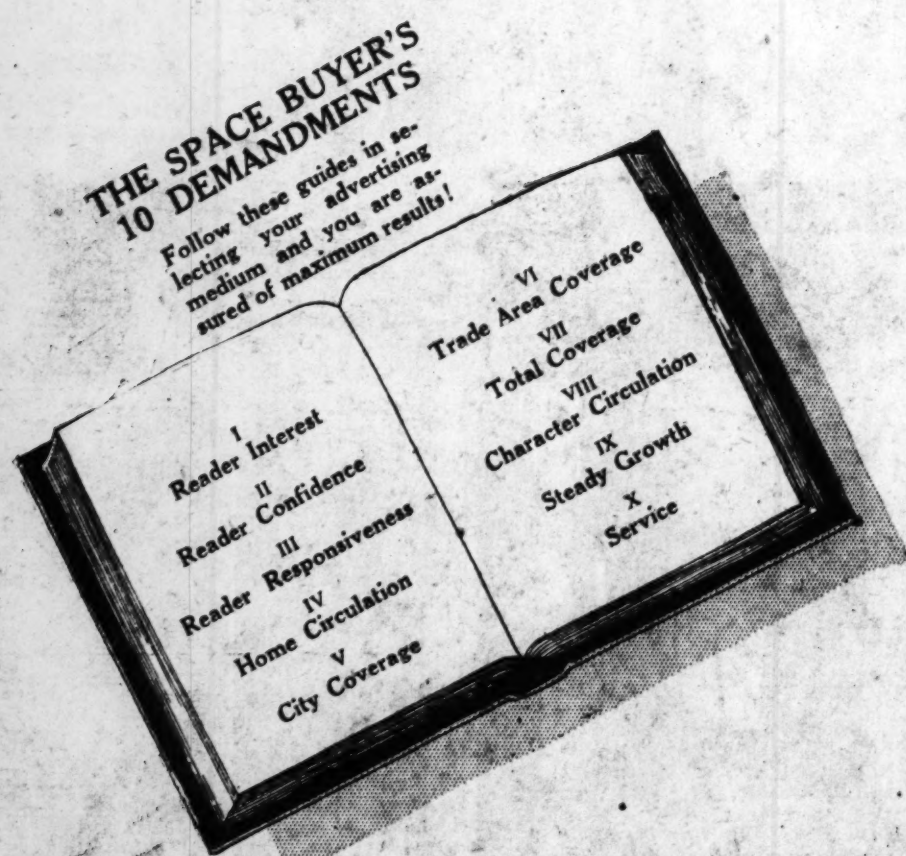

WHEN you buy advertising space, consider FIRST, the readers of a newspaper. After you've made your selection on a basis of quantity and quality circulation, then—and only then—consider the merchandising service available from that newspaper. It is the duty of every newspaper to render helpful service to advertisers. But don't buy space merely on a basis of "more cooperation." Circulation is what you're paying for—the most circulation per dollar and a character of circulation that will make your advertising pay!

Character Circulation

Ask the question: "What kind of people read this particular paper?" Are they the type that could be expected to buy your product? The advertiser can find out—by investigating—that with people in all sections of Atlanta, The Constitution is equally popular.

Steady Growth

The real influence of a newspaper is indicated by the steadiness of its circulation growth. Investigate the growth of circulation of the three Atlanta newspapers. You will find that Constitution circulation has increased more consistently than that of any other Atlanta newspaper.

Service

Advertisers can buy advertising space in The Constitution on a basis of quantity and quality of circulation—and in addition—receive personal assistance from the advertising and merchandising departments of the paper. For the manufacturer, this means quicker distribution for his product. For the retail merchant—expert advice in the preparation of his advertising copy.

Analyze The Constitution's circulation from every standpoint—compare it on a basis of results—get the facts—then buy your advertising space.

The Air Waves.

BY WILL SMITH

"bye, Al, write Ma as soon as you can."
"bye, May, I'll write."

Such is the chain program, or rather, that is one of the interesting bits of by-play we heard Monday night, during our reception of the General Motors "family-party." Not that we mean that that was all we heard but it is one of the results of bringing in our program over the long distance telephone wire.

We have heard bits of conversation before but generally only on rainy nights and not being at all technical in our make-up, we gave it the passing thought. However, it made us think Monday night and wonder what it was all about and why. We'll have to ask some of our technically inclined friends Tuesday, for it sure gives us the creeps.

Is the World Listening In?
What do you suppose happens to our conversation when we use long distance? Do you imagine our private conversation is getting outside circulation? We hope not.

Reception was very good Monday night though we cannot see that the federal radio commission has done much clearing of the air. Really, as far as the Dial Twister is concerned, all the commission has done so far is to favor those stations broadcasting chain programs and mess up the rest.

so we cannot find our favorites where we used to.

It may take a little time but it seems to us that the more time the commission has the less settled are conditions. When we had notice last week that when the new allocations were put into effect conditions would be considerably bettered for the listener. So far, the only ones that have profited were those big stations hooked up in the chains of the National Broadcasting company.

May Be An Advantage.
This may eventually work out to the listener's advantage but the thought occurs to us that in the final analysis it may be missing some of the originality of the local broadcast to which we used to listen.

It reminds us of the day when we used to sit peeped in dark halls viewing the single reel movies that came to us loaded with melodramatic punch many of the feature films of the time were entirely. Movies passed through various stages just as radio is now doing and enormous sums were expended to make each successive picture more stupendous than the last.

Now program features are being brought out for chain distribution and radio fans are hearing of the "Relieves Colds In 2 Minutes"

All Druggists Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If You Buy Relief Coming Within Two Minutes.

The most disagreeable and embarrassing part of cold is that constant nasal discharge, which you can now stop in a few hours with Aspirin, the latest and most scientific "Liquid Cold Remedy."

Aspirin is guaranteed to stop the irritation that causes sneezing and nasal discharges; dispel the congestion and relieve the burning, neuralgic pains at the same time causing a gentle and complete evacuation of the liver and bowels.

Aspirin is sold and guaranteed by all druggists. Price 25c and $1.00. Get relief or get your money back.—(adv.)

men's" sums that are being paid out to artists of the stage and concert hall, and in each instance the last one is always greater than the predecessor. It will have to stop somewhere and some time, but in the meantime what is to become of our local favorites? Will it pay us to have too many of these stupendous chain programs? In our estimation it will not.

Mrs. M. H. Elder and Miss Bearden Honored At Party in Miami

Mrs. George E. Nolan was hostess at her Brickell avenue home yesterday at a smart bridge-ten for Mrs. M. H. Elder, whose husband is Mrs. Nolan's nephew, and for Miss Frances Bearden, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan.

Both young women are residing here permanently. A gold color scheme was used throughout the house, with quantities of yellow garden flowers and ferns about the drawing room and sun parlor, where bridge tables were arranged, and a center piece for the tea table of yellow roses and greenery. Four silver candelabras, holding gold candles, were used on the table which was covered with a lace cloth on a gold ground. Tallies and refreshments carried out the same scheme.

Mrs. Nolan wore a lace model over gold. Miss Bearden's gown was of lace and Mrs. Elder wore a frock of flowered georgette trimmed with black lace. Miss Henriette Nolan, who assisted in serving, wore white satin. Others assisting in serving were Miss Eleanor Shott, Miss Clarence Bush, Miss Louise Montgomery, Miss Edith Carpenter, Mrs. Knowles, Mrs. Van Valkenburgh and Mrs. J. C. Warr.

Miss Sara Graham Mulhall To Visit Mrs. Chauncey Smith

Conspicuous among the December visitors will be Miss Sara Graham Mulhall, who arrives from New York next Sunday to visit Mrs. Chauncey Smith, at her home at 6 Eighth street, N. E., the distinguished woman meriting the $5,000 Pictorial Review award for 1925. Hers is the story of a high-born woman walking without fear in the darkest reaches of life, bearing the torch of redemption to fellow human beings, foundering in the trough of despair. She has devoted 20 years of her life toward working among the unfortunate victims of opium, cocaine, morphine and heroin, helping to restore their self-respect and relieve their suffering.

Writes Book. "Through her book, 'The Demon Flower,' descriptive of the evil wrought by drug traffic, Sara Graham Mulhall has awakened the entire nation to the menace confronting present and future generations and the necessity of annihilating this menace. Although born in England she came to America with her parents when a little girl, becoming automatically an American citizen upon the naturalization of her father. Reared in peace and comfort and a cultured environment resulting from generations of aristocratic breeding and wealth, her life was not conducive towards developing the crusading spirit, but, she was a student by nature, and showed an eagerness to know a lot. She studied history, medicine, sociology and languages at the Sorbonne and University of Berlin, and reads, writes and speaks fluently French, German, Italian and Arabic.

Starts Research Work. Miss Graham-Mulhall has a studio in the National Arts club in New York city. With the $5,000 Pictorial Review award she started a foundation of research and aid for narcotic control, as a spiritual memorial to her brother, who was an inspiration and encouragement. Miss Graham-Mulhall has been for many years head of the Bowers mission, an organization constantly caring for the "down and out" and maintaining a daily bread-line. She is on the mayor's committee of women's committees of New York, composed of the outstanding women of the metropolis, and one of the founders of the Colony club. During the two years she was deputy commissioner of New York she conducted raids in the city's lowest sections, she was merciless to traffickers and prescribing doctors, but merciful always to addicts who called her their guardian angel.

GILBERT DOTY FREED FROM LEGION RANKS

Marseilles, France, December 5.—(AP)—Bennett J. Doty, of Biloxi, Miss., known to the French foreign legion as Gilbert Clare, of Memphis, Tenn., was released unconditionally from his enlistment today and was free to proceed tonight to Paris and thence home.

Doty was turned over to Wesley Frost, American consul general by French military authorities at Port St. Jean and promptly retired to the seclusion of the consulate. He still was wearing the gift suit of civilian clothes donated by the legion which fits him only in spots.

Doty arrived this morning on the cattle ship Taffa from Oran. He was taken from the vessel to the barracks to receive his final papers along with other legionnaires.

"Just what is there in these legion horror stories?" Doty was asked. "Well, it's no young ladies' seminar, although I never attended one," said Doty. "The discipline is severe. One knows that when enlisting some of the legionnaires are rather forceful characters to say the least, but I have never been punished for anything unless I was in wrong with the rules and regulations. Discipline—that's all they know."

Then Doty added earnestly, "and goodness knows where they would go if discipline were relaxed for a moment, but I never saw anything brutal from any ranking officers."

THE CONNOISSEUR

There are a million, more or less, among the ladies on his list. But Van de View's afraid that there is someone he has missed. And that would be an oversight beyond a reparation. A tragedy unspeakable in Vandie's estimation.

A boudoir lamp for Natalie, a graceful little cone. So dainty that apparently 'twas made for her alone—With its careless lazy daisies and its subtlety of light. It's a gift whose duplication wouldn't seem exactly right.

And this set of onyx bottles (or of onyx imitation) With the simulated jade upon the side for decoration. Could only be for Cynthia, his favorite brunette. But perhaps some other colored ones he really ought to get.

And Amelia gets a make-up box, which Van de View has heard Is a necessary requisite—the very latest word. In fact, he knows that vanity is woman's greatest folly. So he orders half a dozen for a slighted Mae or Molly.

I Have Said in My Heart

CLOTHES. A great French arbiter of fashion has arrived in New York and expressed great surprise that American women are wearing their skirts shorter than ever.

Notwithstanding the American girl says she will keep her skirts short, he calmly declares that skirts will be ankle length—and longer—this winter.

There is one thing that the French woman of fashion knows thoroughly that the American woman never takes into consideration, and that is that fashion, like everything else which importantly deals with our life, is a question, not of impulse, but of expediency.

Ever since the repeal of the sumptuary laws, fashion has been a matter of business with the French.

One can go behind every style put out from Paris and find the reason why.

During the war, when the manufacturers were using the utmost capacity of their plants in turning out uniforms and other war textiles, the houses which set the fashion for the world decreed no sleeves on woman's gowns. In 1917, although it was very cold, one never saw a fashionable woman in Paris with sleeves in her gown unless they were of the most infinitesimal affairs.

France needs money. Her manufacturers can only get it by manufacturing more cloth. More cloth can be sold if more is put into each garment—and there you are. Soon we will be wearing more cloth in our dresses. Already skirts are fuller, if not longer.

The thinking woman has to smile when she reads long diatribes on "her love of change and extravagance which are to blame for the changes in fashion."

Whatever the spirit of dress may have been in the beginning, its soul now is commercialism, pure and simple. The activities of the world are carried on by man largely as a means of supplying woman with those accessories which she uses to charm him, and Sir Henry Main, the great English economist, justly points out that the calamities brought upon us by the world war should not be thought great beside a revolution in fashion which would cause women to dress practically in one material and one color, as do men.

Memo: There, Lady Fair, go ahead and buy your winter clothes with a light heart.

Gov. Hardman Addresses Arbor Day Celebration.

Urging the preservation of streams and springs in Georgia and including them in Arbor day observance featured Governor Hardman's address at Kirkwood when the Kirkwood Civic league, Kirkwood P. T. A. and Kirkwood school united in celebrating Arbor day. Trees were planted in Bessie Bramham park in honor of Governor Hardman, Mayor I. N. Ross, ex-Mayor Walter A. Sims, who dedicated the park; L. To Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a few minutes to make. Saves about $2.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is, pine has a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membrane of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and sugar. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. This makes a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cure is the same—Inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and hoarseness.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaracoli, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Tell Them How You Lost Fat

This is to people who have lost fat in the modern scientific way. And who have gained new beauty, new health and vitality by it. You are everywhere. Tell others the facts, as someone probably told you. Some two decades ago, scientific men discovered a cause of excess fat. They learned why some are thin and some are fat, regardless of food and exercise. They found a way to fight that cause by supplying the body some elements required to nutrition.

Then came Marmola prescription tablets embodying this new method. They have now been used for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. You can see the results wherever you look. Slenderness prevails. All ideas of beauty, all styles in dress, are based on slender figures.

Users of Marmola are not forced to abnormal exercise or diet, though moderation helps. They simply take four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal. And new health and vitality comes with that reduction—in an amazing way.

The formula of Marmola comes in every box. Also the reasons for results. Thus you may know just why the good comes, and have no fear of harm.

People who are over-fat should start Marmola now. Order a box—before you forget. Learn all the facts about it, then watch results. When you gain your desires, tell your friends how to gain them. Don't wait any longer.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold in all druggists at $1.00 per box. If you desire a trial, he will get them at once.

THE WAY OF THE WORLD

BY GROVE PATTERSON.

A CURB ON THE TONGUE.

The next time an unkind thought arises out of the heart and an unkind word to the lips, may we not remember the line from "Julius Caesar" which goes like this: "What private griefs they have, alas! I know not." And stopping a little longer in the kingdom of poetry may we call on Tennyson who sang: "Never morning wore to evening but some heart did break."

The constant inability to gauge the intimate life of another ought to make us very careful.

LET'S BE LENIENT.

It has been said that at twenty years of age the will reigns; at thirty, the wit; and at forty, the judgment. Not true. We who have passed forty know how complicated life's problems often are. We know how frequently judgment does not prevail with us, but rather will and desire. That knowledge ought to make us tolerant of youth. Most of us who have lived twice as many years as the youngsters know how badly we have done. That ought to make us both thoughtful and considerate when we lay down our lessons.

A BOOK WORTH WHILE.

"The World of William Clissold," a novel brought out last year by H. G. Wells, is the story of an intelligent man's reactions to life. It pretty much reviews and explains all those things that thinking men and women think about. It is in two volumes and will take some time, but it is worth doing.

VISION AND THE CITY.

The son of a humble fisherman, stilled to a lonely island, saw in his daydreams "a city that lieth four-square in the heavens; and the honor and the glory of the nations shall enter into it, and neither shall anything enter in that causeth an abomination or maketh a lie."

Visions can be seen by the humblest. The more of our citizens who see visions the sooner shall we have a city like the city of St. John.

The Day in Finance

BY R. L. BARNUM.
New York, December 5.—In the thrilling story Henry Ford is telling of his industrial life in his full-page advertisements of his new car, there is one short paragraph that has made a tremendous impression on Wall Street. "No other automobile can duplicate the new Ford car at the Ford price," this short paragraph reads, "because no other manufacturer does business the way we do."

Wall Street knows that as far as Ford's past is concerned, no other automobile manufacturer has done business in Ford's way. Ford's method of doing business has enabled him to accumulate something like $1,000,000,000. If Ford's success with this first model is repeated with a new car, it is going to make a big difference to Ford, to the automobile industry, to the big outside public.

Statement Gets Attention.
Ford's statement that no other automobile manufacturer does business the way he does held Wall Street's attention aside from its interest in the automobile industry. It is common knowledge that the biggest problem confronting business men in general today is one of dwindling profits. Until very recently the Ford methods of doing business were not considered profitable. From his advertisements it is evident that Ford expects his new model to repeat the success of his first car. In what way has Ford's business methods been different from those of other automobile manufacturers to the extent that he is able to accumulate such a fortune?

Wall Street business men are asking these questions with the hope of profiting by discovering something new. On the surface it appears that Ford's methods of doing business have differed from those of other automobile manufacturers to the extent that he has been able to control needed raw and finished materials and finance mass production with the result that he has been able to outbid his competitors. Looking underneath the surface, however, one of the ablest bankers in Wall Street expressed the belief this week that the only formula for marked, sustained, success in business in any line, genus of management, and that Ford has displayed genius of management in his great judgment in foreseeing a particular demand for a cheap car.

Individual Management Success.
This banker said that from his own experience and observation he has long since satisfied himself that genius of individual management is found among many different roads, some of which the outsider has never compared with others pointing to success. Some men, this banker pointed out, make a business success in turning out a product from the standpoint of quality while others make an equal go with all energy concentrated on keeping the selling price down. Some business men are attracted to a policy influenced by elaborate statistics; others go on the rocks slavishly following statistics. The difference between the two is the difference between more or less genius in individual management and the mediocre mind or something in between.

Our banker friend pointed out that a good example of what he had in mind could be found in the automobile packing industry in this country. This industry went along making very large profits until 1920 and then all of the companies went out of business. There is nothing to explain this in any exception, our banker friend declared, except the fact that the industry was saturated. He sat on the lid of troubles common to the packing industry and through genius of management kept his company in quiet waters. Harvey Firestone was cited as an example in the rubber business. Plunkett of North Atlantic, Inc., in the textile industry, and the marvelous record of consistently making money despite changing fundamental conditions in the land textile industry. Interesting cases in other industries were named.

Ford's Success Explained.
Success since Ford obtained with his original model is only explained, from the viewpoint of our banker friend, through genius of management which in each case includes a realization of the importance of individual management and the mediocre mind or something in between. This industry went along making very large profits until 1920 and then all of the companies went out of business. There is nothing to explain this in any exception, our banker friend declared, except the fact that the industry was saturated. He sat on the lid of troubles common to the packing industry and through genius of management kept his company in quiet waters. Harvey Firestone was cited as an example in the rubber business. Plunkett of North Atlantic, Inc., in the textile industry, and the marvelous record of consistently making money despite changing fundamental conditions in the land textile industry. Interesting cases in other industries were named.

Our banker friend pointed out that a good example of what he had in mind could be found in the automobile packing industry in this country. ## Price movement in stock market irregular as congress convenes; renewal of call money at 4 1/2 per cent and monthly statement of brokers' loans to members of the exchange also have effect on trading, which slows down after opening hour.

BY R. L. BARNUM.
New York, December 5.—With a new session, the monthly stock exchange duels and money again rose to 4 1/2 per cent, the price movement in today's stock market was irregular. In the first hour of the volume of trading continued heavy, 600,000 shares changing hands. Afterward there was a slowing down, the ticker at noon catching up with trading on the floor, whereas for the first hour it was five minutes late. In their week-end letters most stock exchange members stated that the pace of the stock market the last half of last week was too fast. In the late trading call money dropped to 4 per cent and the market became more active with the undernote rising.

Rail Activity Expected.
Wall Street expects President Coolidge in his message to congress to strongly recommend early changes in the transportation act which will make possible the speeding up of independent railroad mergers. If these expectations are realized, it is not surprising that the pace of the stock market the last half of last week was too fast. In the late trading call money dropped to 4 per cent and the market became more active with the undernote rising.

Atlantic Refining Sold.
There was heavy selling of Atlantic Refining on rumors that the company was to be sold. The stock was sold at 11 1/2, a decline from 12 1/2. The company was sold to the Standard Oil Company. The sale was completed on December 5. The Standard Oil Company paid $114,000,000 for the company. The sale was a record for the company. The Standard Oil Company paid $114,000,000 for the company. The sale was a record for the company.

Exploit Tax Reduction.
The flood of stock dividends beginning with the enormous Standard Oil payments in 1921 has had much to do with the unprecedented buying in the market. Some months ago it was pointed out in this column that interests closely identified with the DuPonts had acquired a large block of United Rubber stock. Subsequently, it was learned that the DuPonts had acquired a large block of United Rubber stock. The DuPonts had acquired a large block of United Rubber stock. ## The Problem of Restoration.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

PUTTING IT TOGETHER AGAIN

AFTER THE CIVIL WAR CAME THE PROBLEM OF WHAT SHOULD BE DONE WITH THE SECEDED STATES. WHAT WAS THEIR STATUS? HAD THE VICTORY OF THE NORTH BROUGHT THEM BACK INTO THE UNION, OR WOULD THEY HAVE TO BE RECONSTRUCTED BEFORE BEING RE-ADMITTED?

PRESIDENT LINCOLN HAD HELD FROM THE FIRST THAT THE UNION AND THE STATES WERE ALIKE INDESTRUCTIBLE. HE DECLARED THAT SECESSION HAD MERELY PUT SOME OF THE STATES TEMPORARILY "OUT OF THEIR PROPER PRACTICAL RELATION TO THE UNION," AND HE MEANT TO RESTORE THEM BY A JUST AND SANE SETTLEMENT.

IN DECEMBER, 1863, HE HAD OFFERED FULL PARDON TO ALL PERSONS IN THE SECEDED STATES, EXCEPT SECESSIONIST LEADERS, IF THEY WOULD TAKE AN OATH TO UPHOLD THE FEDERAL CONSTITUTION AND ACCEPT EMANCIPATION. HE ALSO PROMISED TO RECOGNIZE ANY STATE GOVERNMENT IN THE SOUTH THAT WAS SUPPORTED BY ONE-TENTH OF THE LEGAL VOTERS OF 1860 OF THAT STATE WHO HAD TAKEN THE OATH.

THE RADICAL REPUBLICAN CONGRESS BELIEVED LINCOLN TOO LENIENT, AND DENOUNCED HIS POLICY OF RESTORATION. IN 1864, THE WADE-DAVIS BILL, WHICH PROPOSED STERNER MEASURES IN DEALING WITH THE SOUTHERN STATES WAS INTRODUCED. LINCOLN VETOED THE BILL ON THE GROUND THAT IT WAS TOO RIGID.

STATE BAPTISTS MEET IN AUGUSTA

Augusta, Ga., December 5.—(AP)—Between 150 and 200 messengers had arrived in Augusta tonight, and indications were that there will be around 400 to attend the Georgia Baptist convention, which opens here Tuesday.

The convention, which will be in session at the Curtis Baptist church, will open at 7 o'clock and the first session will be featured by the annual address of the president, Dr. John D. Mell, of Athens, and the convention sermon by Dr. Leon M. Lattimer, pastor of the First Baptist church of Griffin.

The state executive committee will be in session here at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, while the pastors and laymen's conference will open at the same hour. Talks by prominent ministers and laymen on how they helped their church will feature the session. The convention will last through Wednesday and will close with the election of officers for the coming year.

In connection with the Baptist convention, the Mercer university board of trustees will hold its annual convention meeting here Tuesday afternoon. Dr. A. P. Montague, dean of Mercer university, is acting president as a result of the recent resignation of Dr. Rufus W. Weaver. A committee has appointed President Hugh M. Willet, of the board of trustees, to select a president for the institution, and it is understood that this committee will report its progress at the meeting here, but will not definitely recommend anyone to the board at this time.

WORKER'S GENIUS SAVES SMALL BOY FROM OPERATION

Bradenton, Fla., December 5.—(AP) The ingenuity of R. G. Bee, an electrician here, saved much pain and a possible operation to O. D. Dykes, nine, when the boy accidentally got a small ball bearing in his ear.

He made an electric magnet with a nail and automobile magneto wire and energized it with a transformer connected to a light socket. The bearing was drawn out the moment the magnet was placed to the boy's ear.

Death was caused by angina pectoris. He was 65 years old and a native of South Carolina.

DEAN INGE RISES TO MAKE DEFENSE OF BLACK CATS

London, December 5.—(AP)—Dean Inge rises rather to have a black cat cross his path.

He does not touch wood as a protection against supposed bad luck. In fact the gloomy dean doesn't mind sitting at table with 12 others, any time, if there is a good meal in sight.

The dean has denounced these taboos and minor rituals as popular superstition. He commends the study of science as a deliverer from this "mumbo-jumbo."

He thinks it "shameful and discreditable" that anyone, in these intelligent times, should refuse to sit at dinner or touch wood if he has said anything hostile or anything that might bring bad luck and cats have nothing to do, he holds, with good fortune, or bad.
